INTRODUCTION

CMHA Mental Health Week started in 1951 to raise awareness for mental health in Canada. Held during the first full week in May, CMHA Mental Health Week is now a popular awareness week. Our provincial offices and branches, for instance, hold CMHA Mental Health Week events and activities in hundreds of community locations across Canada. CMHA Mental Health Week offers millions of Canadians practical ways to maintain and improve their mental health.

Every year, CMHA selects a specific mental health-related issue to focus on during CMHA Mental Health Week. This year, as part of our Sick of Waiting: Get Loud for Mental Health campaign, we are paying special attention to long waits – the long wait to see a mental health professional, and the long wait for improvements to the mental health system of Canada.

During CMHA Mental Health Week, we also encourage all Canadians to reflect on their own attitudes towards mental health. Reducing discrimination and stigma is paramount, so that people no longer feel shame due to a mental illness and will no longer wait to seek the support and help they need.

At CMHA, we're proud to be the organization that started this tradition, and we're proud that Canadians have embraced it.

GET LOUD for MENTAL HEALTH

We are asking Canadians again this year to join us to GET LOUD for Mental Health. To GET LOUD means speaking out against the discrimination and stigma directed at people with mental illnesses. It means taking action and using your voice to raise awareness and build support for those around you and for yourself.

This toolkit will help you GET LOUD for Mental Health. Use what you need. Share it with your employees, clients, partners, and community.

We are all working hard to overcome stigma. But there is much more work to do. Our hope is that every one of us will GET LOUD. Let's GET LOUD to maintain mental health. Let's GET LOUD to get it back. Because the louder we all get, the bigger the difference we will make.

NINE SUGGESTED WAYS TO GET LOUD FOR MENTAL HEALTH

How can you GET LOUD for mental health? Just by downloading this toolkit, you are on your way to getting loud for CMHA Mental Health Week. We are hoping you'll GET LOUD – as loud as you can – and we're hoping you'll tell us how!

Here are some ideas to start you off. Visit our website during CMHA Mental Health Week – mentalhealthweek.ca – to find out more ways to GET LOUD for mental health.

1. GET LOUD BY SPEAKING UP!

We often suffer silently. One of the ways to Get Loud is to speak up. Talk openly to someone you feel safe with: a loved one or a friend. If they're informed and supportive, they won't judge or shame you about your mental health concerns. They may even have their own concerns, and you'd be opening a dialogue. Either way, talking about it can end the silence.

2. GET LOUD BY BEING THAT FRIEND

You can be that friend who opens up the conversation. You can start by simply asking "How are you, really?" Offer to listen without judgment, and to do what you can to help.

3. GET LOUD TO GET HELP

The one person you'll want to GET LOUD to next is your family doctor. Tell them if you need support. Tell them if you need services. Contact your local CMHA for programs and services in your area. If you're in crisis, don't wait. Go to your hospital emergency department or call 911.

4. GET LOUD FOR MORE MENTAL HEALTH SUPPORTS AND SERVICES

Don't stop at seeking help: demand it. Get Loud with your elected representatives. Tell them we need increased mental health funding for more – and better – mental health programs and services. Governments at every level need to hear that mental health is a top health priority for all Canadians. We've created a letter for you. Simply download our letter and send or email it to either your local federal MP or your Provincial Minister of Health, or use the tool at mentalhealthweek.ca and let CMHA do it for you.

5. GET LOUD FOR A HEALTHIER WORKPLACE

You can promote mental health where you work. One place to start is to book a CMHA workshop that provides education and addresses mental health in the workplace. Contact CMHA's Workforce Mental Health Collaborative for more information on workforce psychological health and safety training, resources or support.

6. GET LOUD BY HOSTING AN EVENT

Organize and host an event to raise awareness and funds to support CMHA's mission. Submit your event at mentalhealthweek.ca. Together, let's improve and maintain the mental health of all Canadians, while helping to support those of us with mental illness.

7. GET CREATIVE FOR MENTAL HEALTH

Maybe you're creative... Get Loud in song. Get Loud with art.

Write a song, create a work of art, build a sculpture or craft a poem. Don't forget to share it on your social media.

8. GET SOCIAL FOR MENTAL HEALTH

Use social media to promote CMHA Mental Health Week. Ask your friends to share your posts and get the message out that we are Getting Loud for mental health. Join our THUNDERCLAP at mentalhealthweek.ca to contribute your social media reach to the cause.

9. GIVE TO GET LOUD

Make a donation of any size to CMHA. We will use these funds to GET LOUD on your behalf, for better mental health for all Canadians. You can donate at mentalhealthweek.ca or through your local CMHA branch.

And don't forget: tell us how you're getting loud. Use the CMHA Social Activation (the word balloon) included in this toolkit: write in how you're using CMHA Mental Health Week to GET LOUD, and share a selfie with it on your social media accounts!

GET LOUD
for mental health

We all want to be healthy. No one can be truly healthy without paying attention to their mental health. It involves how we feel, think, act and interact with the world around us. Mental health is about coping with the stresses of life and contributing to our community. Ask for help or seek advice from someone with expertise—give your mental health the care it needs and deserves.

Your path to mental well-being

Being mentally healthy isn't about avoiding problems or trying to achieve a "perfect" or "normal" life. It's about living well and having the tools to cope with difficult situations and life's many challenges.

Each person's path to mental well-being is unique. We all have our own goals, our own challenges, our own talents and our own supports. But good mental health is within everyone's reach.

Staying mentally healthy is like staying physically fit—it requires effort and support.

But the rewards are worth it! Everyone faces stresses and demands in their life, but we all need and deserve breaks from them. Daily physical exercise, for instance, not only makes you stronger and more fit, but it can also improve your mood and your sense of well-being.

Taking charge of your mental well-being

- If you have a mental health concern, speak with your doctor and ask for a referral to a specialist if needed
- If you need support in your work life, speak to a career counsellor or human resources expert
- To repair relationships with loved ones and friends, enlist help from someone with a specific expertise in relationship issues
- For financial challenges, contact a financial planner or debt advisor
- If you are looking for help navigating the mental health system, you might want to speak to someone who has had their own experience, or to a qualified system navigator or case manager
- Additionally, other people with lived experience of mental health problems may be able to provide invaluable support and advice. Just remember that everyone's path to recovery is unique, and what was right for one person may or may not be right for you

POSITIVE MENTAL HEALTH TIPS

- Talk to your doctor if you are experiencing problems with your mental health
- Contact your local CMHA branch at cmha.ca
- Check with your employer, or your benefit provider: your Employee Assistance Plans (EAP) or benefits may provide counselling services
- Reach out to people you trust: personal connections are some of the most powerful healing tools
- Live well: a healthy lifestyle can boost your mood

RESOURCES

Here are other sources of information and inspiration that can help:

- Websites of reputable mental health organizations such as CMHA (cmha.ca), the Mental Health Commission of Canada (mentalhealthcommission.ca) and the Canadian Alliance on Mental Illness and Mental Health (camimh.ca)
- Books and apps about specific mental health problems and coping strategies
- Audio and video resources
- Courses and workshops offered through community centres, schools and universities such as Bounce Back, Mental Health First Aid, Living Life to the Full, and ASIST
- Seek out people you admire for their ability to find balance

How CMHA can help

Every year, CMHA's remarkable cross-Canada team of more than 10,000 staff and volunteers provides more than half a million Canadians with vital services and support. Contact your local CMHA, or other community mental health organization, to learn more about support and resources in your area. For more information on mental health programs and services in your community or to donate to CMHA, visit our websites: cmha.ca and mentalhealthweek.ca.

Canadian Mental Health Association
Mental health for all

Founded in 1918, the Canadian Mental Health Association (CMHA) is the most established, most extensive community mental health organization in Canada. Through a presence in hundreds of neighbourhoods across every province, CMHA provides advocacy and resources that help to prevent mental health problems and illnesses, support recovery and resilience, and enable all Canadians to flourish and thrive.

FIVE MINDFULNESS ACTIVITIES

The following are five Mindfulness Activities for each day of CMHA Mental Health Week.

MONDAY, MAY 1ST

Happy Monday, and thank you for joining us for this year's CMHA Mental Health Week! Help settle in after the weekend by taking a social media break for the day. Checking your notifications on Facebook or Twitter can be exhausting and stressful, so spend your Monday social media free!

TUESDAY, MAY 2ND

The adage goes that you are what you eat, and this is especially true when it comes to being mentally healthy. Your diet can play a huge role in your overall mental health, not only what your diet consists of but also how much you eat in one day. Today, we ask that you take note of what you eat. Keep a log of your breakfast, lunch, and dinner, and anything you eat in-between those three meals.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 3RD

Happy Hump Day! Do you feel stressed out from the week's activities? Do you need a moment to breathe so you can feel refreshed? If that's the case, then take a moment to go for a fifteen-minute walk. See how much of a difference fresh air and stretched legs make!

THURSDAY, MAY 4TH

Being mentally healthy means different things for different people. For some, it can mean reframing your thoughts in a much-healthier way. Today, we advise you to try meditating! When you have time, find a quiet part of your house or apartment, turn your phone off, and try meditating for five minutes straight.

FRIDAY, MAY 5TH

TGIF! Thank you very much for being a part of this week's activities for CMHA Mental Health Week. Sometimes, it's difficult to put our feelings into words, but in order to better understand ourselves – and to be understood by others – we have to find ways to express our feelings. Today, try to write out an emotion or feeling you have about something that bothers or worries you. You don't have to show it to anyone, but if you feel comfortable sharing your words then by all means go ahead. Thank you for joining us for CMHA Mental Health Week and have a great weekend.
